PREFACE

THE Welsh collection in the Reference Department of the Cardiff Free Public Library embraces the twelve counties of Wales, and, less fully, the four border counties (Monmouthshire, Herefordshire, Shropshire, and Cheshire), the history of these counties being closely associated with that of the Principality at different times. It also includes books in or relating to the other Celtic languages, such as Gaelic, Breton, Cornish, etc. Besides the printed books given in the following Catalogue, the collection contains a large number of manuscripts and prints, drawings and photographs, which have yet to be catalogued.

The work of bringing together books and manuscripts relating to Wales was commenced by the Library Committee about ten years ago. At that time there was no large library of this character in Wales open freely and at all times to the public, and with the exception of the public libraries at Swansea and Cardiff, the same is true now. The Committee's success is due to the steady perseverance with which the object has been pursued, and to the liberality of those public-spirited gentlemen who have contributed large sums of money from time to time for the purchase of books and manuscripts, and also to the donors who have made gifts of books and other items—photographs especially. Two collections have been purchased: (1) the library of the Rees family, of Llandovery, which comprises printed books, manuscripts, and prints; and (2) the Welsh portion of the manuscripts in the collection of the late Sir THOMAS PHILLIPPS, which, besides the manuscripts, included a large number of topographical drawings.

The Catalogue now published also includes the collection of Welsh books made by Mr. WILLIAM SCOTT, of Hazelwood, Cardiff, which he has generously placed in the Library (on loan at present) for the use of the public. Mr. SCOTT's books are distinguished by the letter S attached to the shelf number.

The Catalogue gives a full description of each book under the author's name, or, where this is unknown, under the title. Books are also entered as far as possible under their subjects. All the works relating to the whole or part of a county are brought together under the name of the county; but the three county boroughs of Cardiff, Swansea, and Newport have each an entry under their own names. Printers (not publishers) and the place of printing are given under the principal entry of each book. The sizes of the books are not given, but the figures following the class letter roughly indicate the sizes—the numerals 1 to 9 being used for the nine sizes into which the books are divided, e.g., w 1 is the sign used for very small books; w 2, duodecimos; w 3, small octavos; w 4, demy octavos; w 5, royal octavos; w 6, quartos; w 7, large quartos and small folios; w 8, large folios; w 9, extra sizes. When less than 100 the number of pages is stated. A short dash (—) is used instead of repeating the author's name for each entry, and a longer dash (——) for another edition of a book. Matter which does not occur on the titlepage is enclosed in square brackets [ ].

An effort has been made to compile complete lists of editions of some books, such as the Welsh editions of Thomas a Kempis, Vicar Prichard's Canwyll y Cymry, Ellis Wynn's Bardd Cwsc, Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress, Morgan Llwyd's Llyfr y Tri Aderyn, Evans's Drych y Prif Oesoedd, and others. These lists are put forward as bases for criticism, and some of them are already known to be imperfect, though correct as far as they go.

An appendix, page 542, gives a list of bardic names, pseudonyms, and initials, with the real names where known. Additions to this list, with the particulars of the works of each author, will be gladly received.

Notes are occasionally given in the Catalogue, but many interesting facts which might have been noted have had to be omitted in order to keep the Catalogue within reasonable limits.

My warmest thanks are here tendered to those who have helped in building up this Library, and also to those who have so courteously given their assistance in the solution of numerous difficult points which have arisen during the compilation of the Catalogue.

A number of books have been added to the Library while this Catalogue has been in the press. It will be necessary in the course of time to publish a supplementary catalogue of these. Two interesting items recently purchased are the first edition of Churchyard's Worthines of Wales, London, black letter, 1587, and Captain Middleton's Psalms, London, black letter, 1603.

It is hoped that the publication of this Catalogue will induce those who have Welsh books not in the Library to either give them or sell them to the Committee. The Library exists not as a luxury for the few, but for the general good, and it should be the aim of all to assist in making the collection complete.

NOTE.—This work is a Welsh Gazetteer, which originated with Dr. John Jenkins, of Hengoed, and Thomas Williams "Gwilym Morganwg," of Pontypridd. Having been proceeded with as far as the word "Gibraltar," it was abandoned in 1860, when Dr. J. Emlyn Jones recommenced it, issuing it in parts—3 at Aberdare, 2 at Merthyr, and the remainder at Cwmavon—up to the time of his death in 1873. The Rev. J. Spinther James afterwards completed the work in 1875.

Cowbridge Tracts published under the Superintendence of the Society for the improvement of the working population in the County of Glamorgan. w 3 11

NOTE.—These tracts (on each of which the above heading appears) deal with questions affecting the social condition of the farming and labouring population. Mr. Benjamin Heath Malkin, of Cowbridge, author of the well-known "Scenery, Antiquities, and Biography of South Wales," [q.v.] was Chairman of the Society. Twelve tracts appear to have been issued, and though the date of publication is not mentioned, it was probably in or about 1831. The titles are as follows: –

On the Principle of Compensation, as between the different conditions of human life. Addressed particularly to the farming and labouring population. No. 1. Price 1d. Cardiff, printed and sold by W. Bird, Duke Street, and to be had of Mr. Williams, Cambrian Office, Swansea; Mr. Heyward, Neath; Mr. Howells, Merthyr; Mr. James Bird and Miss Ballard, Cowbridge. 12 pp. post 8vo.

On the Principle of Compensation, as respecting the condition of the working classes at different periods. Addressed particularly to the farming and labouring population. No. 2. Price 1d. [Same imprint as before. 16 pp. post 8vo.]

On the Principle of Compensation respecting the working classes in Wales and England. Addressed particularly to the farming and labouring population. No. 3. Price 1d. [Same imprint. 18 pp. post 8vo.]

On the Institution of Property. Addressed particularly to the farming and labouring population. No. 4. Price 1d. [Same imprint. 14 pp. post 8vo.]

On the Advantages of Friendly Societies. Addressed particularly to the farming and labouring population. No. 5. Price 1d. [Same imprint. 16 pp. post 8vo.]

On the Advantages of Savings Banks. Addressed particularly, etc. No. 6. Price 1d. [Same imprint. 12 pp. post 8vo.]

To the Labourers of Glamorganshire. No. 7. Price 1d. [Same imprint. 14 pp. post 8vo.]

No. 8. Price 1d. (A series of tales, prefaced by a note, signed "B. H. M.," i.e., Benjamin Heath Malkin. The note states that the tales "were written for popular instruction, by the author of 'Conversations on Natural Philosophy, Political Economy, Chemistry,' etc., etc., and kindly presented to the Society by that distinguished person." The author referred to was Mrs. Jane Marcet. The tales are "The Rich and the Poor; a fairy tale," "Wages, another fairy tale.") [Same imprint. 16 pp. post 8vo.]

Third story.—Population: or Patty's Marriage. By the author of "Conversations on Natural Philosophy," etc. No. 9. Price 1d. [Same imprint. 12 pp. post 8vo.]

Fourth story. — The Poor's Rate: or the Treacherous Friend. By the author of "Conversations on Natural Philosophy," etc No. 10. Price 1d. [Same imprint. 18 pp. post 8vo.]

Fifth story.—Foreign Trade: or the Wedding Gown. By the author of "Conversations on Natural Philosophy," etc. No. 11. Price 1d. [Same imprint. 16 pp. post 8vo.]

Summary of the objects attained or projected by the Society, in the course of its first year. Addressed by the Committee to the members of the Society, and to the public at large. No. 12. Price 1d. [Same imprint. 11 pp. post 8vo.]
